Education

Mathematics and Education

Mar 2015 — Aug 2019

University of Calabar, Calabar

During my Mathematics studies, My passion for problem solving led me to explore programming. I quickly became absorbed in it fascinating world. Opting for lifelong career in software development, I declined a teaching job offer upon graduation. With relentless dedication, I delved deeper into coding, expanding my knowledge and skills. Today, I combine my mathematical foundation and love for problem-solving to approach challenges.
